20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

This committee is composed of highly qualified scientists and public representatives with expertise related to the Institute's AIDS research efforts. It provides a breadth and balance of specialized knowledge necessary to assess the long-range goals, program concepts, research opportunities, and direction of ongoing research and future plans, including HIV pathogenesis, epidemiology, vaccine, prevention and treatment research.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The AIDS Research Advisory Committee, NIAID consists of 13 appointed members who are knowledgeable of the issues related to HIV infection and its treatment, (including clinical drug development), HIV vaccine and prevention research, as well as basic research. Some committee members also have experience/expertise in international HIV research, which is critical given the global nature of NIAID's research agenda. Community/public representatives are also on the committee.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The committee met three times during this reporting period and provided valuable advice to the Division of AIDS (DAIDS), evaluating current activities and reviewing plans for future research projects. The committee also reviewed and approved numerous concepts for new initiatives proposed by DAIDS staff.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

This committee is composed of recognized experts in biomedical and/or behavioral research who represent the forefront of research and technical knowledge and public member(s) representing those with HIV infection and/or AIDS. Their recommendations cannot be obtained from other sources because the complex nature of research requires a specialized balance and breadth of objective expertise not otherwise available.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

N/A

21. Remarks

Reports: This committee did not produce any public reports during the fiscal year. The DFO and Decision Maker are the same person because of the way the Institute assigns duties and has delegated authority. Ernest Hopkins and William Powderly were administratively extended until 4/30/18.

Narrative Description

The goal of NIH research is to acquire new knowledge to help prevent, detect, diagnose, and treat disease and disability, from the rarest genetic disorder to the common cold. The NIH mission is to uncover new knowledge that will lead to better health for everyone. NIH works toward that mission by fostering research projects relating to AIDS in order that research in this area world-wide will continue to find new solutions to the treatment and future cure of AIDS.
